- TIME OUT: Autumn afternoon at Millstätter See / Carinthia
- AMONG WATER LILIES: Sunlit leave, digitally processed. * Krottensee / Salzburg
- BRICCIUSQUELLE NEAR HEILIGENBLUT: Centuries ago Briccius' corpse was found here after being entombed by an avalanche. Magical healings happened, a chapel was built here, a church later down in the valley and the village was named Heiligenblut (Holy Blood). The water of this well enters this roughly worked stone basin and is said to be an eye remedy. * Heiligenblut am Großglockner / Carinthia
- AFTER THE RAIN: Herbstspaziergang * Obertrumer See / Salzburg
- DANCING WATER GODDESS: It was a long, long time ago in Ancient Greece. Poseidon, lord of the sea, and Selena, goddess of the moon discovered their deep love for each other. Every month he honored his beloved lady with a big celebration. He invited all his friends from the world of gods and all creatures of the wet element. At midnight the young gods and goddesses started the worshipping ritual with a dance. In those nights Selena travelled the sky radiant with her bright and shining golden love. Every being on land and sea was invited to take part in the healing magic of this sacred power. Thus she became the female guardian of waters.

Sometimes these days you can still see her rising from the deep with a blushing face... In Hellenic lands the reflection of moonlight on the sea is called το μονοπάτι των ερωτευμένων – to monopáti ton erotevménon - lover's path. When you're in love you feel a lightness inside that makes you want to walk on the surface and to dance upon the waves.

Only very few historians know that in some waters the old poseidonian celebration still takes place. If a human being devotes itself with a loving heart to the warm element of life in one of these magic full moon nights, the experience of floating weightlessly in unlimited energy is almost granted. On some rare and special occasions an encounter with a godlike being is very likely to happen...

- CALL IT A DAY: Sundown at Obertrumer See * Mattsee / Salzburg
- CURIOUS: This friendly pike stood motionless first among the water lilies, then he very slowly glided towards me, had a very close and long look and finally left again. * Krottensee / Salzburg
